WESTWOOD, MA – June 28, 2006 –LoJack Corporation(NASDAQ: LOJN) today announced that Ron Stout, Law Enforcement Liaison in the Maryland/Washington, D.C./Virginia area, was honored on June 22 for his many contributions in the fight against auto theft in the region. The Maryland-Washington DC Anti Car Theft Committee (MD-DC ACT) presented Stout with a plaque recognizing his exemplary day-to-day support of law enforcement in tracking and recovering stolen vehicles. Maryland's Governor Robert L. Erhlich Jr. awarded Stout a citation honoring his efforts to educate the community about vehicle theft prevention and to help police reduce auto theft in the area.

“We’re very proud of Ron for receiving this prestigious honor and for his many contributions in the Washington, Maryland, Virginia area,” said Richard T. Riley, President and COO. “Ron exemplifies the dedication of our entire staff of law enforcement liaisons, who work so closely with police using the LoJack System to recover stolen assets and ultimately reduce the problem of theft.”

Stout has served as a LoJack Law Enforcement Liaison in Maryland, Virginia and Washington, D.C. since 1993, where he trains officers on the LoJack system to help ensure success in stolen vehicle recovery. His 24 years of service with the police in Washington, D.C. and Virginia make him a highly effective, respected liaison. Stout received two valor awards during his time with the Metropolitan Police and three valor awards while serving in Fairfax County.

Ron is one of a distinctive staff of 33 Law Enforcement Liaisons (LELs) based in high theft areas around the country—a staff that is part of the company’s unique relationship with federal, state and local law enforcement agencies throughout the U.S. and a key strength that sets LoJack apart from any competitor. All LELs are former police officers with a specialization in auto theft prevention, who work with law enforcement agencies in the fight against theft.
